THE LOGO

The Central Sanskrit University Logo comprises of a square, surrounded by three red, white and black pillars - symbolizing the three natures of the universe, namely, sattva, rajas and tamas. Within the black square, the red and white squares indicate the pure and royal nature of the Sanskrit University. The motto on the top - योऽनूचानः स नो महान्¹ - symbolizes all the branches of Vaidic learning. The wavy red, white and black lines, representing the three-fold nature, on the left hand side of the pattern, indicate agitated nature when it joins with the Brahman. This a representation of the Sanskrit University actively engaged in the promotion and propagation of Sanskrit. The wavy red, white and black lines returning downwards on the right-hand side symbolize the desire of the seeker to return to the Brahman. The sun-facing flower at the centre indicates the truth-oriented nature of the Central Sanskrit University. The couple of leaves at the base of the flower implies the twin religious elements of upward progress and beneficence. At the epicenter of the flower, the letters CSU (Central Sanskrit University) symbolises a semi-bloomed lotus which is a sign of undeveloped to developed state of being.
