MESSAGE

Greetings to Yoga lovers all over the world.

Yoga is India's gift to the world for health, wellness and peace. It connects us with wellness and happiness. Today, Yoga has become one of the most powerful unifying forces in the world.

Yoga has the potential to herald in a new Yuga of peace, compassion, brotherhood and all-round progress of the human race.

Yoga brings about peace in this modern fast paced life by combining the body, mind, spirit and soul.

Yoga guarantees wellness as well as fitness. Yoga is not merely an exercise, but a way to attain peace through physical, mental and spiritual well-being.

The shift from silos to union is Yoga. A proven way to experience, a realisation of oneness is Yoga.

Yoga is a code to connect people with life, and reconnect mankind with nature. It expands our limited sense of self, to see our families, societies and mankind, as extensions of our own self.

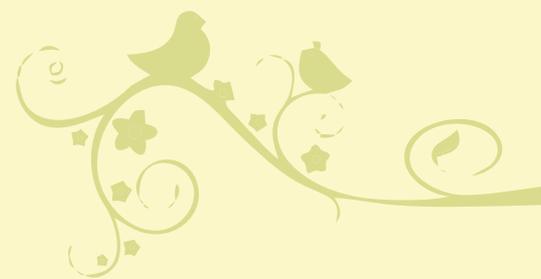

Yoga is a discipline, a dedication, and it has to be performed and observed throughout life. Yoga is for all and everyone belongs to Yoga.

We have to carry forward this journey of humanity, which is Yoga, by taking everyone along. No matter what the place, situation, age, Yoga definitely has some solution for everyone.

Happy Yoga practicing!

MESSAGE

Yoga is a Darshana that aims at the purest form of self-awareness, devoid of all thoughts and sensations. Our ancient heritage of Yoga teaches us the art of living a life full of blissful experiences and the manner in which we can channelize the flow of happiness in our lives. Yoga is a matter of pride for our country, as it is an integral part of our cultural and spiritual heritage.

Yoga has demonstrated immense benefits in the physical, mental, emotional and spiritual wellbeing of individuals who practice it daily. It is essential to utilize the occasion of IDY to reinstate these benefits in the minds of the people.

The Ministry of Ayush has successfully been organizing the International Day of Yoga (IDY) since 2015, and this has found immense support worldwide. People from across the world have also received it with much enthusiasm and fervor.

It is one of the noble initiatives taken by the Government of India under the dynamic leadership of Hon'ble Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi Ji.

The Ministry aims to bring more citizens into the fold of IDY activities than in the previous years, thereby, spreading the rewards of Yoga in terms of physical, mental and emotional wellbeing among all the sections of our society.

I request you to practice and promote Yoga at the global level for the health and wellbeing of humankind and to make it a mass movement as desired by the Hon'ble Prime Minister.

I congratulate and thank the Heads of the leading Yoga Institutions, eminent Yoga experts Dr. H. R. Nagendra, Chairman of the expert committee and Dr. Ishwar V. Basavaraddi, Member Secretary of the expert committee for bringing this noble publication. I do wish these new editions of CYP booklets will be helpful for the Yoga practitioners for their health and wellbeing.

I wish the International Day of Yoga all success.

MESSAGE

The booklet Common Yoga Protocol for International Day of Yoga (IDY) capsulizes the simple and effective Yogic practices in the simplest form for healthy living.

Yoga is a cultural and spiritual heritage of India. Today, Yoga is prevailing all over the world and many Yoga Gurus have contributed in the promotion and expansion of this traditional wisdom. Yogic practices are stepping stones of healthy and disease-free life, creating physical and mental well-being. Yoga is more a way of life rather than a system of exercises or a bunch of techniques. It is a state of mind, an orientation of the psycho-physical being. Yoga is a science and art of transforming the individual care to the universal care.

In the modern time, many scientific works have proved the efficacy of Yoga in the psychosomatic disorders. Not only the Yoga institutions yet other institutes of medicines and sciences have worked for the scientific validation of Yoga. The scientific work on utility of Yoga has created much faith among the masses for its application in lifestyle disorders.

WHO'S "Be Heathly, Be Mobile" (BHBM) initiative supports the scale up of mobile health (mHealth) technology within national health systems to help combat non-communicable diseases (NCDs). Morarji Desai National Institute of Yoga (MDNIY) as WHO CC in Traditional Medicine (Yoga) has the privilege to be associated with WHO mobile health (mHealth) initiative wherein Common Yoga Protocol (CYP) module is being used.

The Ministry of AYUSH is making all efforts to make the IDY event as a public health initiative and take it forward years after years wherein required the support and cooperation from the leading Yoga institutions and various partners for its successful organization.

I thank all the eminent Yoga experts, Heads of the leading Yoga Institutions of India who have given their expertise in compiling this booklet.

Congratulations and my best wishes!

COMMON YOGA PROTOCOL

While addressing the 69th session of the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) on 27 September 2014, the Honorable Prime Minister of India, Shri Narendra Modi “urged” the world community to adopt an International Day of Yoga. Shri Modi said:

‘Yoga is an invaluable gift of ancient Indian tradition. It embodies unity of mind and body; thought and action; restraint and fulfillment; harmony between man and nature and a holistic approach to health and well-being. Yoga is not about exercise but to discover the sense of oneness with ourselves, the world and Nature. By changing our lifestyle and creating consciousness, it can help us to deal with climate change. Let us work towards adopting an International Yoga Day.’

On 11 December 2014, all 193 members of UNGA approved the proposal by consensus with a record 177 cosponsoring countries passing a resolution to establish 21 June as 'International Day of Yoga'. In its resolution, the UNGA recognised that Yoga provides a holistic approach to health and well-being and wider dissemination of information about the benefits of practising Yoga for the health of the world population. Yoga also brings harmony in all walks of life and thus, is known for disease prevention, health promotion, and management of many lifestyle-related disorders.

This booklet intends to give a brief overview of Yoga and Yogic practices to orient one towards comprehensive health and wellness for an individual and the community. Apart from 45 minutes of the Common Yoga Protocol (CYP), a provision has been made for leading Yoga institutions to incorporate 15 minutes of institutional Yogic practices such as Prāṇāyāma, Yoga Nidrā, Dhyāna, and Satsaṅg before Saṅkalpa as deemed fit.

Today, as the importance of Yoga in every aspect of life is realised, more students and practitioners of Yoga are looking for deeper understanding and philosophical bases of Yoga and its practices. The CYP is a humble effort to show how Yoga can influence our lives, attitudes, and well-being. This invariably leads us to the very heart and soul of Yoga.

What is Yoga?

Yoga is essentially a spiritual discipline based on an extremely subtle science, which focuses on bringing harmony between mind and body. It is an art and science for healthy living. The word 'Yoga' is derived from the Sanskrit root 'yuj' meaning 'to join', 'to yoke' or 'to unite'. According to Yogic scriptures, the practice of Yoga leads to the union of an individual consciousness with the universal consciousness.

According to modern scientists, everything in the universe is just a manifestation of the same quantum firmament. One who experiences this oneness of existence is said to be 'in Yoga' and is termed as a yogi who has attained a state of freedom, referred to as mukti, nirvāna, kaivalya, or mokṣa.

Yoga also refers to an inner science comprising a variety of methods through which human beings can achieve union between the body and the mind to attain self-realisation. The aim of Yoga practice (sādhana) is to overcome all kinds of sufferings that lead to a sense of freedom in every walk of life with holistic health, happiness, and harmony.

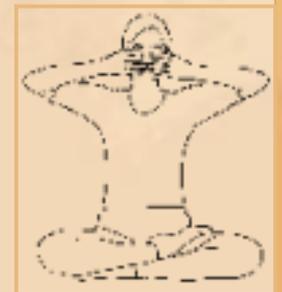

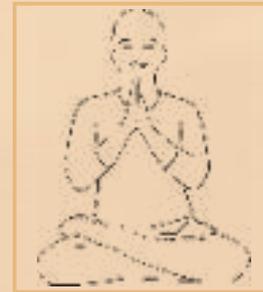

Brief History and Development of Yoga

The science of Yoga originated thousands of years ago, long before the first religion or belief system was born. The seers and sages carried this powerful Yogic science to different parts of the world, including Asia, the Middle East, Northern Africa, and South America. Interestingly, modern scholars have noted and marvelled at the close parallels found among ancient cultures across the globe. However, in India, the Yogic system was found at its fullest expression. Agastya, the saptarishi, who travelled across the Indian subcontinent, crafted this culture around a core Yogic way of life.

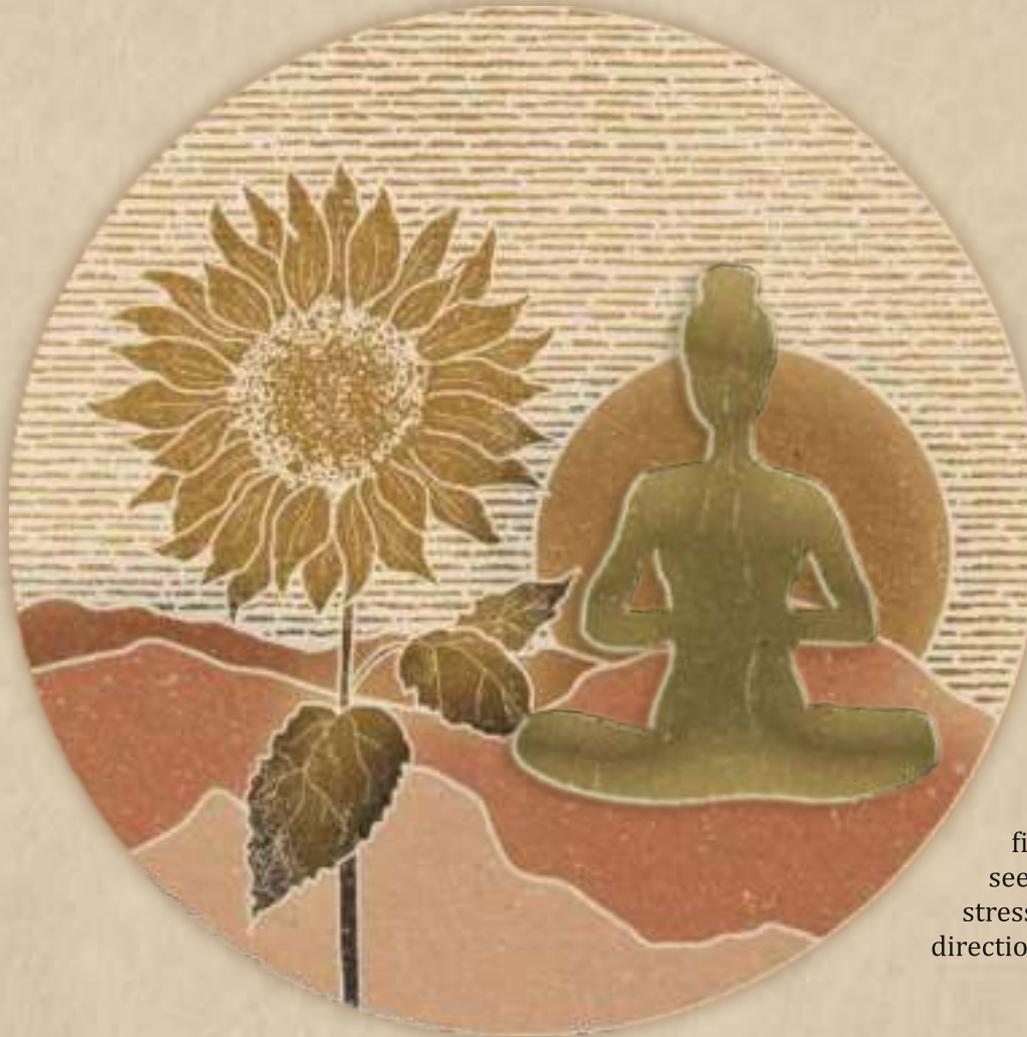

Yoga is widely considered as an 'immortal cultural outcome' of the Indus Saraswati Valley Civilisation, dating back to 2700 BC. It has proven itself to cater to both material and spiritual upliftment of humanity. The unearthing of a number of seals and fossil remains of the Indus Saraswati Valley Civilisation with Yogic motifs and figures performing Yoga sādhanā suggests the presence of Yoga in ancient India. The seals and idols of Mother Goddess are suggestive of the existence of Tantra Yoga. The presence of Yoga is also found in folk traditions, Vedic and Upanishadic heritage, Buddhist and Jain traditions, Darshanas, epics of Mahabharata (including Bhagawad Gita) and Ramayana, and theistic traditions of Shaivas, Vaishnavas, and Tantra. Though Yoga was being practised in the pre-Vedic period, the great sage Maharishi Patanjali systematised and codified the then existing Yogic practices, its meaning, and its related knowledge through Patanjali's Yoga Sutras.

After Patanjali, many sages and Yoga masters contributed greatly to the preservation and development of the field through well-documented practices and literature. Yoga has spread all over the world by the teachings of eminent Yoga masters from ancient times to the present day. Today, everybody has this conviction that Yoga practices can prevent diseases and promote health. Millions of people across the globe have benefitted by the practice of Yoga and this practise is blossoming and growing vibrantly with each passing day.

The Fundamentals of Yoga

Yoga works at the level of one's body, mind, emotion, and energy. This has given rise to five broad classifications of Yoga:

- (a) Jñāna Yoga : Yoga for knowledge
- (b) Bhakti Yoga : Yoga for emotions culture
- (c) Karma Yoga : Yoga for selfless action
- (d) Dhyāna Yoga : Yoga for meditation
- (e) Kriyā Yoga : Yoga for optimum utilisation of vital energy.

Every individual is a unique combination of these five factors. Only a Guru (teacher) can advocate the appropriate combination of the five fundamental paths as necessary for each seeker. All ancient commentaries on Yoga have stressed that it is essential to work under the direction of a Guru.

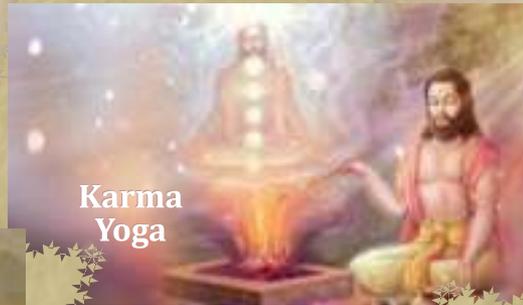

Traditional Schools of Yoga

The different philosophies, traditions, lineages, and Guru–shishya paramparas of Yoga have led to the emergence of different traditional schools. These include Jñāna Yoga, Bhakti Yoga, Karma Yoga, Pātañjala

Yoga, Kuṇḍalini Yoga, Haṭha Yoga, Dhyāna Yoga, Mantra Yoga, Laya Yoga, Rāja Yoga, Jain Yoga, Bouddha Yoga, etc. Each school has its own approach and practices that lead to the ultimate aim and objectives of Yoga.

Yamas are restraints and Niyamas are observances. These restraints and observances are considered to be pre-requisites for further Yoga practice. Āsanas are capable of bringing about stability of body and mind; kuryattadāsanam-sthairyam involves adopting various psycho-physical body patterns and giving one the ability to maintain a body position (a stable awareness of one's structural existence) for a considerable length of time.

Prāṇāyāma consists of developing awareness of one's breathing followed by wilful regulation of respiration as the functional or vital basis of one's existence. It helps in developing awareness of one's mind and helps to establish control over the mind. In the initial stages, this is done by developing awareness of the 'flow of in-breath and out-breath' (śvāsa-prāśvāsa) through nostrils, mouth, and other body openings, its internal and external pathways, and destinations. Later, this phenomenon is modified through regulated, controlled, and monitored inhalation (śvāsa) leading to the awareness of the body space getting filled (pūraka), the space(s) remaining in a filled state (kumbhaka), and it getting emptied (recaka) during regulated, controlled, and monitored exhalation (prāśvāsa).

Pratyāhāra indicates dissociation of one's consciousness (withdrawal) from the sense organs that connect with the external objects. Dhāranā indicates broad-based field of attention (inside the body and mind), which is usually understood as concentration. Dhyāna (meditation) is contemplation (focused attention inside the body and mind) and Samādhi is the state of being constant.

Bandha and Mūdra are practices associated with Prāṇāyāma. They are viewed as the higher Yogic practices that mainly adopt certain physical gestures along with control over respiration. These practices facilitate control over mind and pave the way for a higher Yogic attainment. However, the practice of dhyāna, which moves one towards self-realisation and leads one to transcendence, is considered the essence of Yoga Sādhana.

Ṣaṭkarma are detoxification procedures that are clinical in nature and help to remove the toxins accumulated in the body. Yuktāhāra advocates appropriate food and food habits for healthy living.

Mantra Japa is the meditative repetition of a mantra or a divine consciousness. Mantra Japa produces positive mental tracts, helping one to gradually overcome stress.

Yukta-karma advocates
Right Karmas or actions for a

GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR YOGA PRACTICE

Any individual should follow certain guiding principles while performing Yogic practices. Some of the general ones are given below.

Before the Practice

- Śauca means cleanliness; it is an important pre-requisite for Yoga practice. It includes cleanliness of surroundings, body, and mind.
- Yoga practice should be performed in a calm and quiet atmosphere with a relaxed body and mind.
- Yoga practice should be done on an empty stomach or light stomach. Consume small amount of honey in lukewarm water if you feel weak.
- Bladder and bowels should be empty before starting Yogic practices.
- A mattress, Yoga mat, durrie or folded blanket should be used for the practice.
- Wearing light and comfortable cotton clothes helps facilitate easy movement of the body.
- Yoga should not be performed in a state of exhaustion, illness, in a hurry or in acute stress conditions.
- If an individual is having any chronic disease, pain, or cardiac problems, he or she should consult a physician or a Yoga expert prior to performing Yogic practices.
- Yoga experts should be consulted before doing Yogic practices during pregnancy and menstruation.

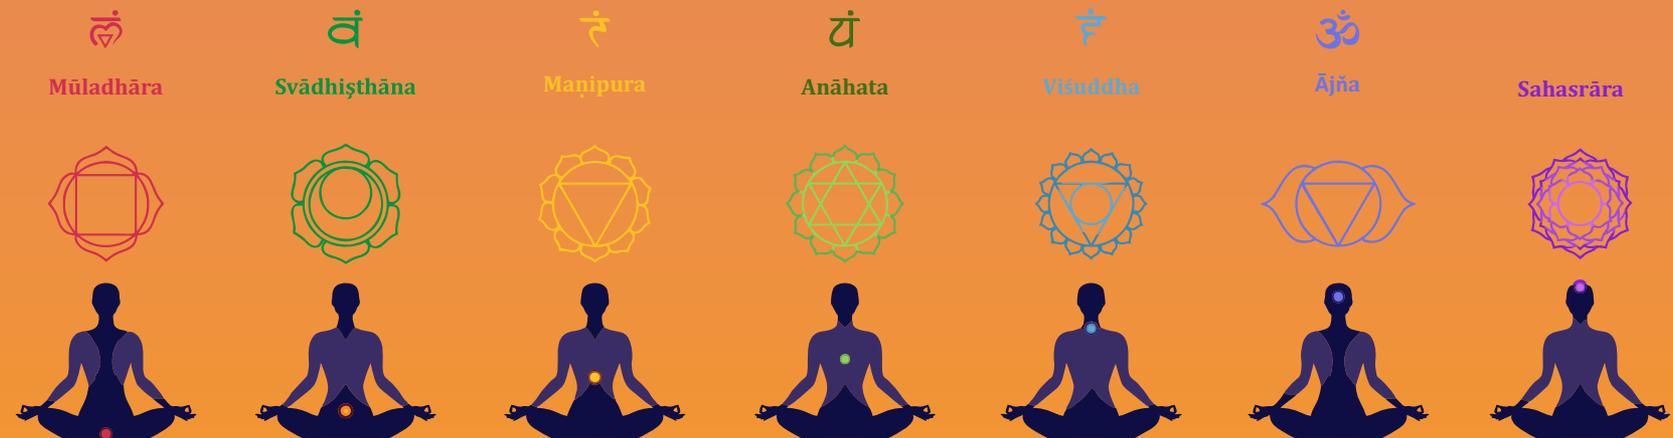

During the Practice

- Practice sessions should start with a prayer or an invocation as it creates a conducive environment to relax the mind.
- Yogic practices shall be performed slowly, in a relaxed manner, with awareness of the body and breath.
- Do not hold the breath unless it is specifically mentioned to do so during the practice.
- Breathing should be always through the nostrils unless instructed otherwise.
- Do not hold the body tight or give undue jerks to the body.
- Perform the practices according to one's capacity.
- It takes some time to get good results, so persistent and regular practice is essential.
- There are contra-indications/limitations for each Yoga practice and such contra-indications should always be kept in mind.
- Yoga sessions should end with meditation/deep silence/Sankalpa/Śāntipāṭha, etc.

After the Practice

- Bath may be taken only after 20–30 minutes of Yoga practice.
- Food may be consumed only after 20–30 minutes of Yoga practice.

Food for Thought

A few dietary guidelines can ensure that the body and mind are flexible and well-prepared for Yoga practice. A vegetarian diet is usually recommended, and for a person over 30 years, two meals a day should suffice, except in cases of illness or high physical activity or labour.

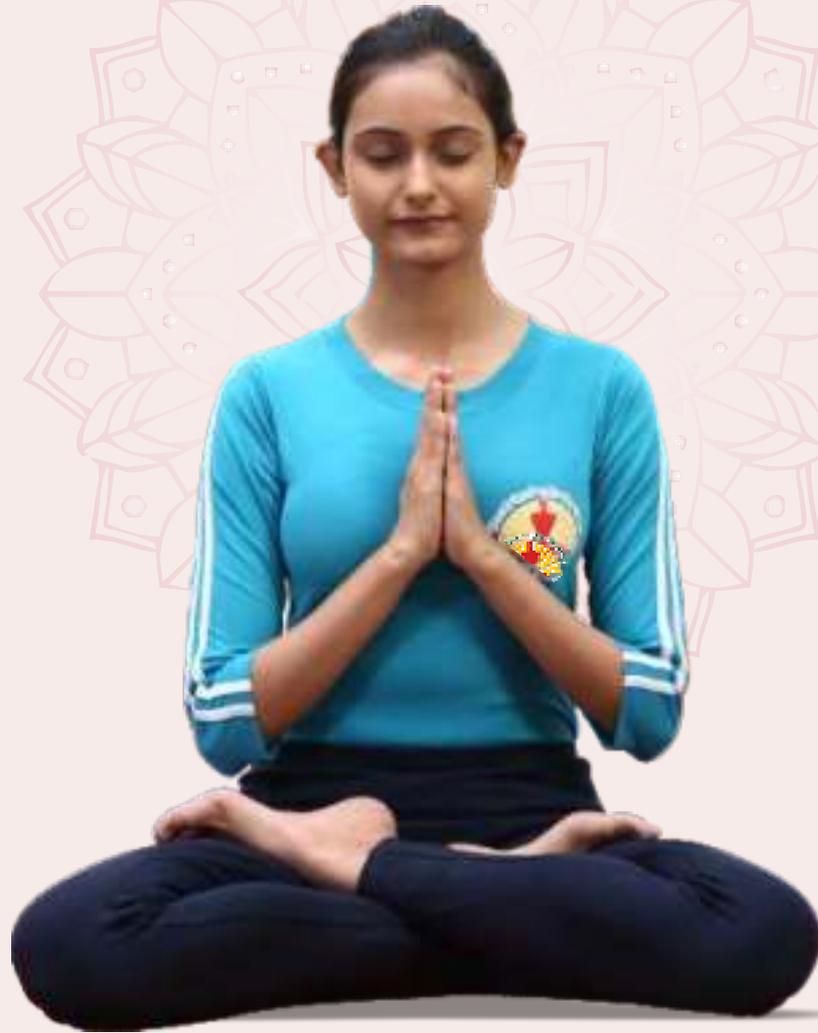

How Yoga Can Help

Yoga is essentially a path to get liberated from all bondages. However, medical research in recent years has uncovered many physical and mental benefits that Yoga offers, corroborating the experiences of millions of practitioners. A small sampling of research points to certain benefits of practising Yoga such as the ones listed below.

- Yoga is beneficial for physical fitness, musculo-skeletal functioning, and cardio-vascular health.
- It is beneficial in the management of diabetes, respiratory disorders, hypertension, hypotension, and many lifestyle-related disorders.
- Yoga helps to reduce depression, fatigue, anxiety disorders, and stress.
- Yoga helps to regulate menstrual and menopausal symptoms.
- Yoga is the process of creating a healthy body and a stable mind, which are prerequisites for leading an exuberant and fulfilling life.

1 | Invocation/Prayer

Yogic practice shall start with a prayer or prayerful mood to enhance the benefits of practice.

ॐ Saṁgacchadhvam̐ saṁvadadhvam̐
saṁ vo manāmsi jānatām
devā bhāgam̐ yathā pūrve
sañjānānā upāsate ||

Rigveda 10/191/2

May you move in harmony; may you speak in unison;
let our mind be equanimous like in the beginning; let the divinity manifest in your sacred endeavours.

2 | SADILAJA/CĀLANA KRIYĀS/ LOOSENING PRACTICES

The Cālana Kriyās/loosening practices/Yogic Sūkṣma Vyāyāmas help to increase microcirculation. These practices can be done while standing and sitting.

I. NECK MOVEMENTS (Grīvā Śakti Vikāsaka)

[Sthiti: Samasthiti (Alert Posture)]

TECHNIQUE

STAGE-1

Forward and Backward Bending/Stretching

- Stand with the feet 2-3 inches apart.
- Keep the hands straight beside the body.
- This is Samasthiti. This is also called Tādāsana.
- Keep your palms on the waist.
- While exhaling, move the head forward slowly and try to touch the chin to the chest.
- While inhaling, move the head up and bend back comfortably.
- This is one round; repeat two more rounds.

Right and Left Bending/Stretching

- While exhaling, bend the head slowly to the right; bring the ear as close as possible to the shoulder without raising the shoulder.
- While inhaling, bring the head to the normal position. Similarly, while exhaling bend the head to the left side.
- Inhale and bring the head up to normal position.
- This is one round; repeat two more rounds.

STAGE-3

Right and Left Twisting

- Keep the head upright.
- While exhaling, gently turn the head to the right so that the chin is in line with the shoulder.
- While inhaling, bring the head to the normal position.
- Similarly, while exhaling, turn the head to the left.
- Inhale and bring the head to the normal position.
- This is one round; repeat two more rounds.

STAGE-4

Neck Rotation

- Exhale; bend the head forward to touch the chin to the chest.
- Inhale; slowly rotate the head clockwise in a circular motion, exhale while coming down.
- Do a full rotation.
- Then rotate the head in the anti-clockwise direction.
- Inhale; go back and exhale, come down.
- This is one round; repeat two more rounds.
- Come back & relax.

NOTE

- Move the head as far as possible. Do not overstrain.
- Keep the shoulders relaxed and steady.
- Feel the stretch around the neck and loosening up of the joints and muscles of the neck.
- This can also be practised sitting on a chair.
- People with neck pain can do the practice gently especially when taking the head back to the extent it is comfortable.
- Elderly people and persons with chronic cervical spondylosis may avoid these practices.

Shoulder movements

STAGE-1

STAGE-2

II. SHOULDER MOVEMENTS

Sthiti: Samasthiti (Alert posture)

TECHNIQUE

STAGE-1

Shoulder Stretch

- Keep the feet together, the body straight, and the arms by the sides.
- While inhaling, raise both arms sideways above the head with the palm outward.
- Exhale and bring it down in the same manner.
- Palms must be opened, with fingers together.
- This is one round; repeat two more rounds.

Benefits

- This Yogic kriyā makes the bones, muscles, and nerves of the neck and shoulder healthy.
- These practices are helpful in cervical spondylosis and frozen shoulder.

STAGE-2

Skandha Cakra (Shoulder Rotation)

- Stand erect.
- Place the fingers of left hand on the left shoulder and the fingers of right hand on the right shoulder.
- Full rotation of the elbows in a circular manner.
- Inhale and raise the elbows and bring them back while exhaling.
- Try to touch the elbows in front of the chest on the forward movement, stretch the elbows back in the backward movement and touch the side of the trunk while coming down.
- Do the same in reverse manner. Inhale while raising the elbows and exhale while bringing them down.
- This is one round; repeat two more rounds.
- Come back & back.

III. TRUNK MOVEMENT

(Kaṭīśakti Vikāśaka)

| Sthiti: Samasthiti (Alert posture)

Technique

- Keep the legs about 1 foot apart.
- Raise both the arms up to shoulder level with palms facing each other and keep them parallel.
- While exhaling, twist the body towards the left side so that the right palm touches the left shoulder; come back with inhalation.
- While exhaling, twist the body towards the right side so that the left palm touches the right shoulder; come back with inhalation.
- This is one round; repeat two more rounds.
- Come back & relax.

NOTE

- Perform it slowly with coordination of breathing.
- Cardiac patients shall do with care.
- Avoid this practice in case of severe back pain, vertebral and intervertebral disc disorders, and during menstruation.

IV. Knee movement

| Sthiti: Samasthiti (Alert posture)

Technique

- Inhale; lift the arms up to the shoulder level, palms facing downwards.
- Exhale; bend the knees and bring down the body to the semi-squatting position.
- In the final position, both the arms and thighs should be parallel to the ground.
- Inhale and straighten the body.
- This is one round; repeat two more rounds.
- Come back & relax.

NOTE

- It helps to strengthen knees and hip joints.
- Avoid this asana in case of acute conditions of arthritis.

A. STANDING POSTURES

3 | YOGĀSANAS

TĀDĀSANA

(Palm-tree Posture)

Tāḍa means palm tree or mountain.

This āsana helps one to attain stability and firmness and forms the base for all standing āsans.

Sthiti: Samasthiti (Alert posture)

Technique

- Stand with feet 2 inches apart.
- Inhale, lift your arms up to the shoulder level in the front.
- Interlock the fingers, and turn the wrist outwards. Now inhale, raise the arms up above your head.
- Raise the heels off the floor and balance on the toes as you raise your arms. Stay in this position for 10–30 seconds and breathe normally.
- Bring the heels down on exhale, release the interlock of the fingers and bring the arms down and come back to standing posture.

Benefits

- This āsana brings stability in the body, helps to clear up congestion of the spinal nerves, and corrects faulty posture.

Caution

- Avoid lifting the heels in case of arthritis, varicose veins, and vertigo.

VRKṢĀSANA (The Tree Posture)

Vṛkṣa means tree. The final position of this āsana resembles the shape of a tree, hence the name.

Sthiti: Samasthiti (Alert posture)

Technique

- Stand with feet 2 inches apart.
- Focus on a point in front.
- Exhale, hold, bend the right leg and place the right foot on the inner side of the left thigh. The heel should be touching the perineum region.
- Inhale and extend the arms up and join the palms together for Namaskāra Mudrā.
- Stay in the position for 10–30 seconds and breathe normally.
- Exhale and bring the arms down. Release the right leg and bring it to the initial position.
- Repeat this āsana from the left side also.

Benefits

- This āsana helps to improve neuro-muscular coordination, balance, endurance, alertness, and concentration.

Caution

- Avoid this practice in case of arthritis and vertigo.

PĀDA-HASTĀSANA

(The Hands-to-Feet Posture)

Pāda means feet, hasta means hands. Therefore, Pāda-Hastāsana means keeping the palms down towards the feet. This is also referred as Uttānāsana.

Sthiti: Samasthiti (Alert posture)

Technique

- Stand straight with feet 2 inches apart.
- Inhale slowly and raise the arms up.
- Stretch up the body from the waist.
- Exhale and bend forward until both palms rest on the ground.
- Stretch the back, to make it as straight as possible.
- Maintain this final posture for 10–30 seconds and breathe normally.
- Now inhale, come up slowly to the upright position and stretch the arms straight above the head.
- Exhale, slowly return to the starting position in the reverse order.
- Relax in Samasthiti.

Benefits

- This āsana makes the spine flexible, improves digestion, and helps in overcoming menstrual problems.

Caution

- Avoid this practice in case of cardiac disorders, vertebral and disc disorders, abdominal inflammation, hernia and ulcers, glaucoma, myopia, and vertigo.

NOTE

- Those who are suffering with stiff back should bend according to their capacity.

ARDHACAKRĀSANA (The Half-Wheel Posture)

Ardha means half. Cakra means wheel. As the body takes the shape of a half wheel in this posture, it is called ArdhaCakrāsana.

Sthiti: Samasthiti (Alert posture)

Technique

- Stand straight with feet 2 inches apart.
- Support the back at the sides of the waist with the fingers.
- Try to keep the elbows parallel.
- Inhale, Drop the head backwards feel the stretch in the neck.
- As you exhale, bend backwards from the lumbar region.
- Maintain this final posture for 10–30 seconds and breathe normally.
- Inhale and slowly come up.
- Relax in Samasthiti.

Benefits

- This āsana makes the spine flexible and strengthens the spinal nerves and muscles.
- It helps in the management of cervical spondylosis.

Caution

- Avoid this posture if you have vertigo or a tendency to fall over or stagger (giddiness).
- Hypertensive patients should bend with care.

TRIKOṆĀSANA (The Triangle Posture)

Trikoṇā means triangle. Tri means three and koṇa means angle. As the āsana resembles the shape of a triangle made by the trunk, arms, and legs, this āsana gets the name Trikoṇāsana.

Sthiti: Samasthiti (Alert posture)

Technique

- Stand with feet 3 feet apart.
- Inhale slowly while raising both the arms sideways up to shoulder level.
- Turn the right foot towards right side.
- Exhale, slowly bend to the right side and place the right hand fingers just behind the right foot.
- The left arm should be straight in line with the right arm.
- Turn the head and gaze at the tip of the left middle finger.
- Remain in the posture for 10–30 seconds with normal breathing.
- Inhale, slowly come up.
- Repeat the same procedure from the left side.

Benefits

International Day of Yoga

Yoga Geet (Yoga Song)

तेन मन जीवन चलो संवारें
योग मार्ग अपनाएँ,
वैर भाव को त्याग सभी हम
गीत मिलन के गायें।

आनंदमय हो जीवन सबका
योग यही सिखलाये
हों तनाव भयमुक्त सभी जन
दिव्य प्रेम सरसाये।

यम और नियम हमारे सम्बल
सुखमय जगत बनाएं,
आसन प्राणायाम ध्यान से
स्वास्थ्य शांति सब पाएं!

ऊर्जावान बने सब साधक
संशय सभी मिटायें
विश्व एक परिवार योग कर
स्वर्ग धरा पर लाएं।”

Let us ameliorate body, mind and life
Embrace Yoga as a way of life
Leaving animosity behind
Sing a harmony lay

Life should be blissful
-is the lesson of Yoga
Let's everybody live without fear
Thus, divine love may prevail

Yama and Niyama empower one
To enhance the happiness everywhere
Practise Aasana Pranayama and Dhayan
To get health and peace

May energy is bestowed to all Yogis
Doubts are unfastened
Entire world becomes Yoga wreath
Earth transformed into heaven

The Ministry of Ayush created buzz in the digital space in a way that encouraged Yoga enthusiasts and citizens to participate in IDY 2021 activities, thereby millions of people across the globe observed IDY 2021 in the confines of their homes.

The Hon'ble Prime Minister, Shri Narendra Modi addressed through the virtual mode and said that “Despite the pandemic, this year’s theme for International Yoga Day – “Yoga for wellness” has raised the morale of people and he wished for the health of every country, society and individual and hoped that we will be united and will strengthen each other.” Numerous digital initiatives were taken by the Ministry together with other stake-holding institutions made the practice of Yoga accessible to the public, despite the restrictions imposed by the pandemic.

About the LOGO OF INTERNATIONAL DAY OF YOGA

Folding of both hands in the logo symbolises Yoga, which reflects the union of individual consciousness with that of universal consciousness, a perfect harmony between mind and body, man and nature, the holistic approach to health and well-being.

The brown leaves in the logo symbolise the earth element, the green leaves of nature, blue the fire element while the sun symbolises the source of energy and inspiration.

The logo reflects harmony and peace for the humanity, which is the essence of Yoga.
